"EDUCATION = POWER"

The title above, from the entry by Arielle Glick, a student at Commack Middle School, expresses the importance we need to place on education if we are to overcome the prejudices that divide us and deny freedom.

We are pleased to announce an extensive array of quality educational programming offered by partner organizations. These programs, together with the art exhibit, will send a strong message on the value of cultural understanding, and will foster a community that respects human dignity. Further information on each of these programs can be found on our calendar at:

<http://www3.sunysuffolk.edu/Calendar/calendar.asp?print=0&show=-1&span=M&day=B&campus=A&category=%7C108%7C4%7C&flags=%7C%2D1%7C%2D1%7C>

The programs will include a film series at Theatre Three, offered by the Port Jefferson-Northern Brookhaven Arts Council; a discussion series presented by the Molloy College Institute for Interfaith Dialogue; Erase Racism's Unraveling Racism Training; Unity Day, sponsored by the Suffolk County Office of Minority Affairs; exhibits at the Polish American Museum and the South Country Public Library; a lecture at the Suffolk Academy of Law on war crimes trials; a concert at St. Joseph's College presented by the LI Philharmonic; and, a cultural program offered at the Long Island Museum. In addition, both Heckscher Museum and the Nassau County Museum of Art will be providing tours of our outdoor exhibit.

Remember, EOD will be on exhibit from September 26 to October 13 in Roslyn, and October 17 – 29 in Huntington. Classes and groups are encouraged to visit. An educational guide is available at: http://department.sunysuffolk.edu:8000/DeptDocs/EmbracingOurDifferences_Docs/Educational_Guide_20081.pdf.
